

Felice McClendon, MS

Felice McClendon is a National Network Manager for the Wyman Center. She received her undergraduate degree in Journalism from the University of Missouri in Columbia, followed by her graduate studies in Non Profit Leadership and Management with a focus on Public Policy. Felice has been certified as a youth development trainer, completed Evidence-Based Program training at Washington University's Brown School, and Safeguarding our Youth training.

